PRESIDENT BRIMHALL'S FOUR-MINUTE TALKS

"President Brimhall's talk was worth coming clear from Colorado to hear," remarked one of our "mining" visitors last week, as he left assembly. Our friend was merely expressing a sentiment that is reiterated throughout the entire Student Body.

Dr. Brimhall has a gift of keen perception. He finds insight and wisdom in incidents that pass unnoticed by less discriminating minds. His powers of analogy and inspiration make his talks original and invigorating. The addresses he gives have the added virtues of being short, snappy, and to the point.

We enter Monday's assembly with the feeling that we are going to hear something new and worthwhile. Our expectations are always realized.

We hope that these four-minute talks will be continued throughout the year.

OUR COLLEGE SONG

While singing the "College Song" and "Our Glorious Banner," at last Friday's Student Body program, the great majority of our students and professors expressed a most joyous thrill. It has since proved so keen and so true that it has become a part of the life of those who did not join in and feel the pulse of the "College Spirit." Some of the words are: "We are one, another, but everyone loves our College Song."

To those few "unlabeled" students and professors we assign the "College Song" and "Our Glorious Banner" for their ministry, yes, with their mind, heart and soul. At our next Student Body rally there will be a call for this assignment and a musical request is the only type that will be accepted. Sing our "College Song," and then you'll love it.

STUDENT BODY DANCES

The Student Body dances have degenerated into a game of "rubbing" and "dodging" in a vain effort to make the rounds. Those who are tall rejoice in the fact that theirs is the right of way as far as pushing is concerned, and those who are small, become experts in the art of dodging. Neither process is contributory to grace and pleasure. That we have too many dancers for the size of the hall is a recognized fact, but the congestion can be relieved, if each individual will make an effort to alleviate the situation.

One-third of the shoulder-dancing space is occupied by men whose chief desire is to watch the girls dance and by girls patiently waiting for these same men to dance with them. Many seats are not occupied. The space between the elevated dancing floor and the east door is not appropriated. The reason is undoubtedly based on the fact that this location is not considered a good view of the dance. We are justified in assuming that the dancing floor should be used for dancing. The people who show a determined preference for standing on the dancing floor must "sacrifice" for the good of the majority.

HAVE FAITH

What do you think of the idea of getting the graders up before the Student Body program to a game and saying, "Boys, you're beaten. While you haven't the slightest chance, let's defeat them and at least try not to let the score number mount beyond the 70's?" The answer is, "I don't know." To stand that they are children of circumstance, worthy of the condescending cheer of all loyal students. The latter is to feel that their effort is being made in vain, and that their loyalty is measured by the enthusiasm with which they yell and cheer.

This morale is compatible with neither

Young University nor American ideals. Young University is never beaten before the pistol shot. John Paul Jones, who won under odds, never knew he is going to defeat is easily beaten.

The Student Body must feel that the team will win and the men must be determined to win for indomitable, fighting spirit triumphs. "Such as your faith is, shall it be to you."

B. Y. C. ABLE TO WIN THROUGH NEWSPAPERS

In writing the newspaper story of the men and the B. Y. C. for Logan last Friday, the B. Y. C. reporter, for some enterprising purpose, credited his school with several points which they did not make on the field. The game between the B. Y. C. and the "Y" Varsity, while in fact the B. Y. C. won a complete touchdown game, was lost by the excellent play of Partridge and Fuller. The writer goes on to say that the fourth quarter of the game was a dispute regarding a touchdown which the B. Y. C. made and that the officials decided after the game to grant it to them.

Whether the northern's dogmatic claiming overrode the official until it was finally awarded them the touchdown the news is not substantiated in the official report. It stood thirteen to six when the "Y" Fresh left Logan. In case the referee did revoke his decision and gave the home team the touchdown (which is very improbable) the score would have been twelve to thirteen, except that under the pressure of circumstances the B. Y. C. returned to the field and won the game.

It was the fourth quarter of the game. The score stood thirteen to six when the "Y" Fresh left Logan. In case the referee did revoke his decision and gave the home team the touchdown (which is very improbable) the score would have been twelve to thirteen, except that under the pressure of circumstances the B. Y. C. returned to the field and won the game.

In the last twelve years the B. Y. C. has just won but one athletic contest from the Young University. That was a basketball game in 1918, when a conference ruling broke up the B. Y. C. team by barring high school men from participation. The B. Y. C. team, that year, was a college team in the B. Y. U. that year and the "Y" team was a high school team. The northern college, however, evinces little interest in the B. Y. C. team. The papers—to get the honor, at least, holding its position to a tie.

Our immature friends from the north are activated by the buoyant spirit of yellow journalism and the reports of the B. Y. C. score merely displays their youthful veins. It is surprising, however, to find that the authorities have done nothing to right the wrong but have continued at downright misrepresentation.

DISMISSING CLASSES ON TIME

As extremely dutiful and conscientious students we should like to tender a suggestion to the faculty.

A few years ago one of the most popular songs was "I want to leave you, I'm no good to you now." We all feel that way about our professors at the end of a class, but we all hear another song: "Somebody's Voice is calling."

We don't mean to imply that all of the teachers are the same, but some of our faculty seem to feel that the man who rings the bell is their personal enemy. Sometimes even an ironical remark is directed at the squaring student who has a mental picture of a breathless run up the Master steps or a long hour of standing at the rear of College Hall.

We don't wish to appear impatient or ungrateful, but neither do we wish to incur the displeasure of the teacher of the class that follows.

"Faculty, can't you do something about it?"

CURRENT OPINION

SEE THE STARS

In every class leaders are few but followers many. Our school is blessed with leaders, who, because natural ability coupled with hard work, are leaders in conspicuous places.

Most of us recognize their nobility of purpose and nobility of character. We speak well of them—encourage them both in their backs and their faces, and, as a result, a few are among us who, facing vision, go about in the dark and spend their time seeking false hopes or to public ridicule the petty mistakes of the greater mind and ignores and loves him who dips his hands in the slime. Why can we not forget our jealousy, our little selfish and speak good and respect the virtues of those who are more successful. Perhaps that is the greatest cause holding us from attaining success in our lives.

Two men looked out from the same bars—
One saw the bad—the other the stars.
Our school is a training school for leaders. Let us take the attitude worthy of leaders.

HE HAD HIS DREAM

An elderly man was persuaded by one of his sons to go with him to a boxing exhibition.

The son paid for two 25-cent seats. "Now don't mind the son, just sit there, you'll see more excitement for your money than you'll get anywhere else."

The man smiled.

"I got my doubts about that," he said gloomily. "Two others was I and paid for my marriage ticket."

Obvious

"Are more active than vegetarians." "They've got to be to get the most out of it."

A Stout Complaint

Mr. Tompkins had expectations from his wife, Edith, that she was very stout. So when he came to them on a few days visit, he prepared to do all he could to make a good impression and began by mentioning his at the end of the century.

On the way home in his automobile he encouraged his only child, who named Edward, to sit on the edge of gentlemen's knees.

"I've never seen a boy rock on his perch."

"Well, you'll get to sit on one's knees and so," he said.

"Why, Teddy?" his father asked.

"Because every time he breathes he pushes me out."

MYSTERY

When you Can't Find the Morning Paper look on the Porch, Roof, or In Two Acts.

Character: There is no character involved in this play. The parts are represented as follows: The bartender, a middle aged ghost with a white porcupine.

Mr. Rufus Hennessy, a middle-aged ghost who is a very good character. Grammatically incorrect. Nobody seen in the act.

Enter the Curtain

Hennessy: Bartender, I say, bartender.

Bartender: Well!

Hennessy: I'm a ghost, I'm a ghost, I'm a ghost, I'm a ghost.

Enter the Curtain

Hennessy: Very well.

Hennessy: Bartender, I say, bartender.

Bartender: Well!

Hennessy: Are you sure this is half and half?

Bartender: Of course, half and half.

Hennessy: What's the other half?

Bartender: Water.

Edk in the following order, in the same direction:

(1) Bartender, (2) glass of half and half, (3) a bottle, (4) Hennessy.

"I can give you a cold hit" said the woman.

"Why not warm it up?" asked the tramp.

"There isn't any wood saved."

"So? Well, give it to me, I'll burn it."

Drunk—A guy, what's how far is it to Canal Street?

Clara—"Twenty minutes" said the drunk.

Teacher—"Tommy, why do you spell back with a large 'P'?"

Tommy—"Cause pa said a bank was no good unless it had a large capital."

Art Class Members Observe City Trees

Friday fifteen members of the Art Appreciation class went in trucks to the Utah Academy of Science at Logan to observe the city trees.

Professor Cottrell acted as the guide. He gave the lecture. He gave a history of the trees and the qualities in the cultivation of the different varieties.

There were several papers spent an enjoyable and profitable afternoon.

Professors Martin, Cannon and Cotton attended a meeting of the Utah Academy of Science at Logan last Friday.

Members of the state meet twice a year to discuss the research they have been carrying on since the last year. Dr. Martin read a paper concerning his work. While at Logan he was accompanied by the Utah Agricultural College professors.

P. B. TO ENTERTAIN AT BONNIEVILLE

Conjoint Meeting at the Bonnieville will be the scene of a Public Service program next Sunday night. The members will be several vocalists and the reading of a play by one of Professor Parlor's advanced students.

MRS. WIDBORN TO ADDRESS HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Mrs. John A. Widbore will address the Home Economic girls within the next two weeks. This time an entertainment will be given by the club. The contest in charge was appointed at a recent meeting of the club.

All B. Y. U. girls taking any home economics course are invited to membership in the club. Cards may be obtained from Edith Holquist, Utah South, Lehigh or Edna Lewis.

CAFETERIA DEPARTMENT ACTIVE

The B. Y. U. Cafeteria, conducted by the Student Body Food Service and under the direction of Miss Ellen E. Smith, is now open for business. The cafeteria is open from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. The food is clean and nutritious, is served attractively, and is varied from day to day. The prices are very reasonable. Various clubs of the school are holding lunch parties there weekly.

It is a good business, but urges more students to support it.

SANITARY EFFECT ORGANIZATION

United Jones of Ephraim was elected president of the Sanitary Effect organization and organized meeting held Monday night at the home of Miss Mary E. Alvord, vice president and Amy Jack of Merced, secretary.

Alonso Merced and Vesta Pierce was elected. Over forty representatives of the Carrol County delegation attended the initial meeting.

TO REORGANIZE ART CLUB

All students who are interested in art will meet in the Art Gallery, Monday after dinner, for the purpose of reorganizing the Art Service Club. This club fosters the activities of that department and has charge of the exhibits which are brought to our school.

In one of his history classes, Dr. Jensen was heard to remark: "For about nine years after the settlement of Jamestown there were no white women in America."

"Goodness," mused out a student from the rear.

"Yes, it was a shame," returned the professor.

While trying to make his way through the crowd just after service, he was asked by a young woman, he showed her to "bible 17." "Thomas," he said, "the band and set our voices!" "Make way for a woman's baby!"

Lady—Have you any reading card? "No, I haven't. I'm married."

First Program Held By Faculty Women

The P. Y. U. faculty women held their first program meeting last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Keeler.

Mrs. M. P. Henderson read and discussed the opera Sansone and Deutch. Musical selections from the opera were played on the phonograph during the review.

The musical program consisted of vocal numbers from the opera which were sung by a quartet consisting of the Johnson and Christensen sisters. Solos were sung by Mrs. O. B. Harding.

PIANO CLUB ORGANIZED

A new club was founded, Monday, by the piano players of the Provo High school. The club is to be known as the Provo Piano Club.

The first meeting of the club was held on Thursday evening at 5:30 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Keeler.

The organization of the club was completed by the election of officers and the adoption of a constitution.

Y. E. A. WILL MEET FOR SOCIAL

The initial meeting of the Y. E. A. will be in the nature of a social in connection with a golfed program. It is scheduled to take place Thursday afternoon at the Y club in the Ladies Gymnasium. One of the features of the program will be a speech by Superintendent H. A. Dixon of the Provo City Schools.

ART ORGANIZATION PERFECTED

The organization of the Art Series was completed Monday morning with Carl Wright president, La Voine Brindley, vice president, Hal Holt secretary and treasurer, and Ted Bushman publicity manager. The purpose of the club is to develop the art project for the general benefit of the school.

SENATOR SMOOT ADDRESSES YOUNG REPUBLICANS

At their luncheon last Wednesday Senator Smoot urged the Young Republicans to vote according to their own judgments, and to be led by no one. He expressed his warm feelings for the club and his appreciation for the work of the Young Republican Club in school.

Y. C. C. LUNCHEON TODAY

President F. S. Harris is to be the speaker at the "Y" Commerce Club luncheon to be held today in the Art gallery at 12:30 p. m. A special musical program will also be given. Address to the Provo High School, several letters of appreciation for the weekly luncheon have been received from the high schools of the area. He further reports that the club is growing and is daily becoming more active. At present a campaign for the purpose of obtaining more club projects is being conducted by the finance committee.

MANTOLIN CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

Thirteen mandolin players met Monday morning and organized a Mandolin Club. The next meeting will be Thursday evening at 6:30 in College Hall.

CAST FOR SENIOR PLAY ANNOUNCED

The cast for the Senior play, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," which will be presented December 15th, is announced as follows:

Aunt Mary—Wanda Boyack, a wealthy spinster—Wanda Boyack
John Watkins, Drunken Aunt Mary's Nephew—West Farkman
Robert Burnett, Her pal—Robert K. Mitchell, another pal—Ray Olay
Clever Wyncopco, also a pal—Maud Dixon
Mr. Sublimis, a lawyer—Carl Christensen
Joshua, Aunt Mary's hired man—Henry Wardner
James, the Burnett Butler—James, the Burnett Butler
Bertha Doney, Sister-in-law—Bertha Doney
Mary's maid—Irish Jones
The girl from Kalamazoo—Maud Dixon

Leanda, Aunt Mary's property—Veta Pierce
Business managers—Wayne May and Lynn Taylor

The prospective actors are already memorizing their lines and rehearsals will begin today. Professor Taylor will be assisted in the directing by Wanda Boyack and Myrtle Henderson, two senior students who are competing in dramatic art.

The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary is a comedy portraying the trials and tribulations of a country spinster who endures to save her young nephew from the pitfalls of city life even if it falls into the said pitfalls herself.

Maud Wanda Boyack, who will play the part of Aunt Mary, was very successful in the reading of the play, and her interpretation of the wealthy spinster's eccentricities was very artistically characterized.

The rest of the cast is well selected and it is hoped will live up to the splendid versatility of the Societas.

STUDENTS HEAR INSPIRATIONAL TALK BY SMOOT

"We expect great things from the Church," said Senator Reed Smoot in his address to the Student Body on Wednesday. "There will never be a time when the president of the Church will have any other than the greatest interest in its institution. No matter what happens, we must maintain all of the institutions that are supported by the Church, that will never come that this will not be THE Church school, and be supported by the Church. This institution ought to be a school as great as any other school in the world, and to the young people here, we want you to receive sacredly the institution so that there may be taken from the scholars of this institution, and women that can stand here as instructors and be equal to any instructors in any university or college in all the world. All we have to do is to follow the course mapped out by God in the beginning. All we have to do is to live up to the teachings of the Church, and that is the greatest testimony to the people of the world we can possibly give."

"Remember that time is fleeting and before you know it you will be required to fill all responsibilities of this Church, that is made in this nation, and I want to plead with you all to prepare yourselves for it. No young man can put knowledge into your head, unless you exercise all the powers that you have to retain it and retain it there. No one can take a man or woman of you, they can't take you and help you out, we can't rest with you to determine the final result."

Continuing Senator Smoot said, "I hope to see the time come when the people of God will be the most worthy people in all the world and I expect to see the time come when I will see that this great institution is crowded with all the necessary means to make it the greatest of great schools. May the school continue its progress forever, and may our dreams of its greatness, if God wishes, come true."

During his address Senator Smoot commended the leadership of Brigham Young. "God must have prepared the beginning the men selected by Brigham Young, under the inspiration of God, for the opening of this great dispensation of the fulness of time. He had, I think, the best judgment of any man I ever knew in the world as to the work that he knew had to be done, and without which, the Church would never have advanced as it has."

P. S. B. Scheduled For Coming Week

Several programs will be given by the Public Service Bureau during the coming week. Director Bentley announced that requests for social entertainment are continually being received and that with the help of the students the programs are being given.

Next Sunday Brother W. H. Boyle will speak at the State Mental Hospital. Mental members will be furnished with a large number of the students the programs are being given.

Sunday evening at the Provo Fifth Ward Church, Miss Helen Johnson will contribute the music for the program.

Professor Sauer, G. M. Wright and Orville Christensen will appear in a musical drama entitled "The Song of the Sun." They will appear in a musical drama entitled "The Song of the Sun." They will appear in a musical drama entitled "The Song of the Sun."

Several programs were given under the auspices of the Bureau last week. The vocal selections by Miss Kathleen Geller and piano playing by Miss Ione Harris, at the Pioneer Ward Church were heartily appreciated.

"Dutch" Evans, as a reader, was extremely popular as a reader and entertainer. Professor Sauer and a group of assistants furnished an attractive program at the State Mental Hospital last Sunday morning.

All Loyal Citizens HEAR UNITED STATES SENATOR W. T. ROBBINS

One of America's Greatest Orators and Statesmen, Discuss the ISSUES OF THE DAY AT THE Stake Terrace Wednesday, Nov. 1st.

Side Light on the Republican Candidates

That the men comprising the Republican state ticket this year are men of exceptional ability and high character becomes more apparent as the people of the state have the opportunity to see them and hear first-hand expressions of their beliefs and policies.

Heading the ticket is Ernest Bamberger, candidate for United States Senator. A native of Utah, engaged in various business enterprises all of which are characterized by success. Mr. Bamberger is considered to be an ideal team-mate for Senator Reed Smoot. Mr. Bamberger declares himself to be for the producer, whether his product be labor, the product of the farm, the mine or the mill. He is in favor of lower and more equitable distribution of taxes, and the application of common sense and sound business principles in the operation of the government.

Bamberger is a college graduate, holding a master's degree in mining engineering. He has been on the Board of Regents of the University of Utah for many years. He has an enviable war record. He has a character which is unassailable.

E. O. Leathwood, candidate for reelection to congress from the second Utah district, has proved in the two years he has been in the House of Representatives, that he holds the interests of Utah and of the nation at heart. He is a member of three important committees in the lower house, and has been in the framing of much beneficial legislation since his election two years ago. He possesses not only the confidence of the people of his state, but also commands a wide respect among his fellow representatives in congress.

The County ticket is just as strong as the National ticket, and every county candidate stands for Republican principles viz. protection for Utah industries and Utah County interests.

Ciceronians Elect Officers For Year

Seventeen enthusiastic debaters assembled Friday afternoon and re-elected the Ciceronian Debating Society. W. H. Wardell, Utah R. States and E. Glen Cramer were elected president, vice-president and secretary respectively. The purpose of this society is to foster debating interests in the school.

Another meeting will be held Thursday at noon in 22-C to discuss the outline of the year's work and to decide upon a definite time for future meetings. All students who are contemplating joining the society are urged to be present.

The Ciceronians was started last year and was one of the most active organizations of the school. All of the debaters and many of the prominent members of the Student Body were members. It is thought by many that this year the club will gain a strong foothold in the school and will prove to be one of the most active organizations.
